Thanks for Choosing NCL

It won’t be long now until you’re packing your bags and getting ready to embark on your cruise vacation with NCL. Along with your tickets, here’s a handy welcome pack where you’ll find lots of good advice and other important things you’ll need to know.

We look forward to seeing you soon and just let us know if you need anything else. Welcome aboard!

Your Cruise Ticket is Here
First piece of advice? Don’t pack your ticket away but keep it handy in your pocket or handbag for presentation at the pier before boarding. You’ll also need a valid passport. This includes infants, children and adults due to a new government regulation.

Insure Your Baggage
We usually recommend you insure baggage and personal effects, as NCL’s liability is limited by the terms of the Passenger Ticket Contract in the event of loss or damage. This insurance can be obtained through your travel agent, or you can contact NCL directly at 1.800.327.7030.

For Air/Sea Guests
Your airline ticket is enclosed with your cruise documents. Please be sure that you or your travel agent confirms your flight numbers, dates and flight times with the appropriate carrier at least 72 hours prior to your scheduled departure. For guests who have elected to participate in one of our optional hotel packages, please check all documents and verify the respective information and dates.

Airport Arrivals, Day of Sailing
If you have purchased air through NCL, an NCL representative will greet you at the airport baggage-claim area to take you to your ship or hotel.

Assistance While En Route
Should you need assistance while en route to your cruise, please call an NCL representative at 1.800.327.7030.

Okay, here are some commonly asked questions. (We did not include “Why haven't I done this before?”)

What does my ticket say about my cruise?
Please check your tickets to be sure you're booked on the proper date, ship and itinerary. If you have booked flights through our Air/Sea Program, check your air ticket date and time of departure. You should reconfirm your flight numbers, dates and flight times with the appropriate air carrier at least 72 hours prior to your departure. If you are enrolled in NCL's Travel Protection Plan, a reference will be indicated on your ticket (U.S. and Canada only). If your enrollment isn't indicated or is incorrect, please contact your travel agent right away.

Also, keep in mind that your ticket is basically a contract and your acceptance of the Passenger Ticket Contract means you agree to the conditions it contains. NCL reserves the right to decline or accept any person as a guest of the cruise at any time.

What does my cruise fare include?
Your cruise fare pays for your accommodations, meals and entertainment aboard ship. A few of the specialty restaurants have either nominal cover charges or fixed-price menus and à la carte pricing. Items of a personal nature aren't included, like alcoholic beverages and soft drinks, spa treatments, certain specialty exercise classes, laundry, service charges, photographs, casino, ship-to-shore phone, email, internet, fax and Shore Excursions (including all Dive In™ programs). Government taxes and fees are also not included.

Documentation, visas and passports
All guests must carry a valid passport. It's your responsibility to check with your travel professional, local immigration office and/or respective embassy to determine requirements for passports, visas and other documentation, including vaccinations for infectious diseases. This is important stuff to remember because guests who are denied boarding by local immigration officials for lack of proper documents are not entitled to a cruise refund.

• FOR TRAVEL ABROAD:
In addition to your passport, visa requirements vary by country and are subject to change, so if you're traveling abroad, we urge you to contact your travel professional, local immigration office and/or respective embassy or consulate to determine the entry requirements for your particular cruise destinations.

How do I pay for on-board expenses?
It's pretty easy. For your convenience, all shipboard expenses are charged to NCL's special on-board credit program. You simply sign up on the first day of your cruise by establishing a method of payment: VISA®, MasterCard®, American Express®, Discover®, JCB Card®, traveler's checks or cash. If you choose to settle your account with cash, a deposit will be required in advance. You may also use a debit card; however, please be advised that NCL obtains preauthorization, which some banks may hold for up to 30 days.

What about currency?
You may cash traveler's checks at the Reception Desk. Travelers checks and most major credit cards are accepted in the ports we visit. Remember, proper ID is required when cashing travelers checks. We recommend that you carry a small amount of local currency when visiting foreign ports, although we've found that credit cards are commonly accepted in shops and restaurants.
What about insurance?
If you have purchased NCL’s Passenger and Baggage Protection Plan, a policy coverage description booklet is included in your ticket jacket. If you haven’t purchased our plan, we strongly urge you to get some kind of travel, medical and baggage insurance. Additional insurance will supplement any present coverage you have, including Medicare, which does not cover participants traveling outside the U.S. Remember, NCL’s liability for loss or damage to baggage in connection with the vessel is limited by the Passenger Ticket Contract which covers up to a maximum of $100 per guest.

NCL does not accept responsibility for the loss or damage of contents off our vessels. Once you’re on board, you’ll note that all staterooms and suites have mini-safes. Please note, however, that NCL cannot accept responsibility for valuables left in staterooms or elsewhere on board. Jewelry, valuables, fragile items, medications and important papers should not be packed with baggage but should be hand-carried.

May I bring my pet?
Sorry, but no pets are allowed on board, except service dogs.

What if I’m pregnant?
Throughout the travel industry, pregnancy is regarded as a medical condition. An expectant mother’s application for passage must be accompanied by a medical certificate establishing her due date and fitness to travel, and acceptance is subject to the following conditions:

• NCL will not be responsible or liable for any complications of pregnancy that may arise or occur during the cruise.
• NCL will not accept guests who will have entered their 24th week of pregnancy by the time their travel with NCL concludes.
• For further information, please contact our Ship Coordinator Department.

What about people with special needs?
NCL welcomes guests with special needs. All we ask is advance notice in order to accommodate you, so please call 1.800.327.7030 and ask for the Ship Coordinator Department at least three weeks prior to your cruise. All of our ships have designated staterooms with wider doorways and bathrooms that accommodate wheelchairs. For hearing-impaired guests, we have staterooms with light alarms and under-pillow vibrating alarms. And for the vision-impaired, we allow guide dogs on all NCL ships.

Many staterooms have refrigerators to store medications that must be kept cold. Guests who need oxygen or require oxygen therapy are welcome on all NCL ships but must, of course, supply their own oxygen. Guests who use wheelchairs must also provide their own.

One last thing: all guests who require medical equipment to be brought on board must advise NCL’s Ship Coordinator Department prior to sailing. Failure to do so may result in equipment not being cleared before departure. Visit our website at ncl.com for information about accommodations on specific ships.

What about Shore Excursions?
A Shore Excursion brochure and a pre-request form are included with your cruise documents. We encourage you to sign up before you go. For one thing, you’ll be sure to get the excursion you want. Also, it’s one less decision to make once you get on board.
Fax the enclosed form to 1.305.436.4110 or visit ncl.com/shorex to pre-request online. Shore Excursions can also be arranged for and purchased at the ship’s Shore Excursion desk.

How can we celebrate a special occasion?
You may purchase wine, fruit baskets, champagne, birthday cakes, canapés, flowers or other gifts for your stateroom. Please contact NCL’s Ship Coordinator Department at least three weeks in advance of your cruise by dialing 1.800.327.7030 or visit our website at ncl.com/more.

How can I send a gift to someone on board?
NCL is happy to go the extra nautical mile to provide just the right gift for that special someone. In the Bon Voyage and special gift section of this brochure (page 22), you’ll find an assortment of ideas for any occasion. Choose from wines and champagnes, gourmet hors d’oeuvres, flower arrangements, on-board credit certificates, NCL memorabilia and cruise wear. For advance orders, contact NCL’s Ship Coordinator Department at least three weeks in advance of your cruise at 1.800.327.7030 or visit our website at ncl.com/more. Once you’re on board, you can order gifts by calling the Reception Desk.
Freestyle Cruising gives you the freedom to dress as you please. So come as you are. No need to check for a “suggested dress code” as you do on traditional cruises. Resort casual attire is always appropriate — morning, noon and night. If you like, you can slip into a pair of khakis and a polo shirt, a skirt and blouse or a sundress for dinner.

We do not allow T-shirts, shorts, cutoffs, tank tops, bare feet, etc., in any of the restaurants at dinner. However, T-shirts and shorts are permitted in buffets, trattorias, outdoor barbecues and all 24-hour venues. For those who do love to dress to the nines and get that annual formal portrait done, there are optional formal evenings in at least one of the main restaurants on every cruise. This means black tie or dark suit for gentlemen and evening gown or cocktail dress for ladies. But remember, on formal evenings, you can always choose to dine in one of the alternate restaurants and enjoy some of the other lounges and leave your dressier clothes at home.

Whether you’re sailing to the warm tropics or the glaciers of Alaska, remember to bring clothing that can be easily layered. A sweater is a versatile accessory that’s ideal for everything from air conditioning to a cool breeze. For visits to places of worship, check the on-board daily newsletter for attire guidelines. Be sure to bring a pair of comfortable walking shoes, too. Other essentials include sunglasses, a sun hat or visor and sunscreen. Don’t forget to bring prescription medicines in original containers and an extra pair of glasses or contact lenses. Carry valuables and medication in a handbag you keep with you at all times.

IMPORTANT NOTE: All suitcases are collected the night before we return to our home port, so be sure to bring a smaller overnight bag that can hold your personal essentials for the last night.

What should I not pack?
Do not pack a watch.
On our ships, there is no Pacific, Mountain, Central or Eastern Standard time zones. There is only you and your own sweet time. Which means wake when you want, go where you want, eat when you want. Have breakfast for dinner or dinner for lunch wherever you want. On NCL it’s always whatever o’clock. (The only exception is when the ship is in port and we ask you to be back by a certain time. So, only pay attention to the time when you’re not on the ship!)

Do not pack routines/schedules
Do not make the bed, let out the dog, wake up the kids, make their lunches. Do not drop them off at school, stop and get coffee, drive to work, say “Hi” to the boss, work-work-work. Do not take a short lunch, work-work-work until it’s time to drive home, make dinner, give baths, do chores, watch TV and turn out the lights. This is Freestyle Cruising. Do not pack routines.

Do not pack stress
If a little should sneak aboard, make an appointment immediately at our spa.

Will I need an electrical converter?
Probably not. The electrical current on board is 110-volts AC, same as most American households. Some high-voltage hair dryers, electric rollers and electric razors may require a converter, but most of the time, you’ll find it’s plug and play.

How many suitcases can I bring?
Each person is allowed up to four pieces of personal luggage on board, with each piece weighing a maximum of 50 pounds. However, if you are traveling by air, ask the airline if they have different restrictions. Airlines and NCL have limited liability for loss, so be sure all baggage and personal belongings are properly insured. Suitcases should be securely locked and tagged. And remember, it’s always a good idea to hand-carry important documents, medication, jewelry or other valuables.
Baggage Assistance
Whether you’re traveling on NCL’s Air/Sea Program or traveling independently, you are responsible for claiming your luggage at your airline’s baggage claim area. Airport porters and self-service luggage carts are available at all airports to help make things easier. Porter service is also available at each pier during embarkation and disembarkation. Oh, by the way, there’s a customary tip for porters: $1 a bag ($2 a bag in New York). Gratuities are the guest’s responsibility. Please be sure each piece of luggage has a luggage tag listing your name, ship and stateroom number. You’ll find luggage tags in your ticket jacket.

Embarkation
Here’s an important one: You must be on board one half-hour prior to sailing time, or your cruise reservation is subject to cancellation. (We’re pretty sure that this is where the famous phrase “missed the boat” comes from.)

Also, keep in mind that many of the piers that we sail from do not have restaurants. Once you get on board, a complimentary lunch is available on all ships during embarkation hours. Lounges are also open for the purchase of cocktails and soft drinks. As stated on the Passenger Ticket Contract, please remember that you can’t bring personal liquor on board. Additionally, any liquor purchased in any port of call will be put away for safekeeping and will be delivered back to you on the last evening of the cruise.

What time is dinner?
Promptly at whatever o’clock. NCL’s exclusive Freestyle Cruising lets you decide. We offer open-seating dining in a variety of restaurants and cafés with individual menus, and it’s your choice. You can have lunch or dinner with friends at one of the fancy restaurants. Reserve a table for two at an intimate bistro. Order an omelet prepared just the way you like it from the breakfast-buffet chef. There are special menus for youngsters even entrées from Cooking Light®.

Special meals are available, including low-calorie, vegetarian, no-MSG, low-/no-sodium and low-/no-cholesterol meals, as well as sugar-free and fat-free desserts and kosher meals. As you can see, when it comes to dining, Freestyle Cruising rocks. Remember, all of our restaurants are nonsmoking. Most of the specialty restaurants require a per-person cover charge or offer à la carte pricing. Reservations are recommended and can be made on board. And now with NCL’s new TV information system, your decision of where to dine is easier than ever. Just check the TV outside each restaurant for helpful, up-to-the-minute table availability.
What about smoking, drinking and gambling on the ship? (Short answer: yes.)
You can smoke in designated areas in the bars and outside on open decks. All other areas onboard ship are non-smoking. If you’re 18 through 20 years of age and you have the written consent of your parents or guardian you can purchase beer or wine for yourself only when the ship is sailing in international waters (except in Alaska and Hawai‘i where you must be 21 years of age to consume or purchase alcohol of any kind). If you want to gamble in our casinos, you must have a valid ID showing your 18 years or older. If a guest under the age of 18 wins in the casino (“Dude! Look, you won!”) and cannot provide proof of age, he or she will not be paid the winnings. (“Bummer, dude.”) There are no casinos in our ships in Hawai‘i.

NCL encourages the responsible use of alcohol and accordingly reserves the right to permanently or temporarily revoke the drinking privileges of any guest who violates NCL’s Passenger Code of Conduct or who is deemed by vessel management as a danger to himself or herself or others. Continued abuse of alcohol while sailing and/or violation of NCL’s alcohol policy may result in immediate disembarkation.

Tell me about the children’s programs.
Our complimentary Kid’s Crew™ and Teen’s Club programs are designed for kids from ages two to 17. Our counselors are well-trained and offer an age-appropriate array of fun-filled options so kids can get as much excitement out of the cruise as you do. With everything from parties to video arcades to cool learning sessions, there’s so much for kids to do that your kids are sure to have the trip of a lifetime. Kid’s Crew hours:
Sea days: 9 am – noon, 2 pm – 5 pm, 7 pm – 10 pm.
Sea days & port days: 7 pm – 10 pm.

Are babysitters available?
Yep. In addition to the Kid’s Crew program, group babysitting programs (for kids ages two to 12) are available at a nominal cost from 10 pm to 1 am each evening and while in port from 9 am to 5 pm. During the group babysitting program hours, youth counselors will supervise and entertain children with a variety of activities. (Programs, age groupings and hours of operation are subject to change; check the on-board daily newsletter.) Private or in-room babysitting is not available.

Parents with participating children who are not potty trained will be issued a beeper and be alerted to return to the poop deck when the child needs to be changed. Beeper range is limited to on board the ship. According to U.S. Public Health Service (USPHS) regulations, no diapers of any kind are permitted in the swimming pools or hot tubs, including diapers marketed as “swimmers.”

What are the customs allowances?
Okay, this part’s a little confusing, but bear with us. (We’re just following the laws.)

United States residents must declare all articles acquired abroad and in their possession when they return to the U.S. This includes items purchased in “duty-free” shops. The duty-free exemption allowed on purchases or gifts for returning U.S. residents varies. The standard exemption for U.S. residents who have been abroad more than 48 hours is $600–$800, which may include one liter of alcohol or 1.5 liters total, two 750 ml bottles (if you are at least 21), 100 cigars and 200 cigarettes. (Wow, someone had a good time.) Residents returning to the U.S. from the U.S. Virgin Islands may bring $1,200 worth of goods, duty-free. U.S. citizens and residents are not allowed to bring more than 200 cigarettes into the U.S. if they are produced in the U.S. whether made for export or not. Excess U.S. cigarettes marked with “U.S. tax-exempt for use outside U.S.” or “made for export only” will be seized. Foreign-manufactured tobacco products will be subject to duty and internal revenue taxes. (The duty-free exemption for U.S. residents doesn’t need to include items that are mailed back to the U.S.; those will be assessed for duty when they arrive.) The duty-free exemption for a package mailed as a gift is $100; the exemption for a package marked for personal use is $200. Non-U.S. citizens should check with their local authorities for customs allowance information.
For more specific customs information, be sure to attend the briefing by the Cruise Director before your ship reaches home port. Check the Freestyle Daily (the daily onboard newsletter) for time and place. You can also obtain information before you sail by contacting the nearest U.S. Customs office (look under United States Government, Department of Treasury in your local phone book). You can also visit the U.S. Customs website at www.customs.ustreas.gov or call 1.202.927.6724 and ask for the brochure “Know Before You Go.”

Whew. We told you it was confusing.

NOTE: Bottles of liquor you purchase on board or ashore will be held in a secure area and delivered back to your stateroom at the conclusion of the cruise.

What about shopping on board?
The gift shops on board are all duty-free (local tax isn’t added to the prices). Due to local customs regulations, the shops are only open while at sea. Hours are posted outside the shops and in the on-board daily newsletter. Remember, items purchased in the gift shops must be included among your “purchases from abroad” when clearing customs on your return to the U.S. or Canada.

Shopping Ashore
SHOP AND EXPLORE WITH CONFIDENCE.
There’s an adventure in every port, but an unfamiliar place can be a time-consuming challenge. Why not let an NCL Port & Shopping Consultant do a little legwork for you? Whether you’re looking for the best beaches or trying to get a handle on the local taxi rates, they can show you the way. Your Port & Shopping Consultant is also your “Shore Shopping Specialist.” From duty-free shopping to shopping ashore, our on-board experts will steer you toward great buys. You can even pick up a Shop Ashore Port Guide, featuring port information, a local map and all the recommended shopping spots. And you can shop with added confidence, since all the stores listed in your Shop Ashore Port Guide offer an exclusive NCL shopping guarantee.

What other cool stuff is available?
• Every day our cruise director is coming up with cool stuff to see and do. Check the on-board daily newsletter to see what’s going on.
• Art auctions
• Photographs taken throughout the cruise
• Fitness center open 24 hours
• Internet Café
• Beauty parlor and spa services, including hairstyling, manicures, pedicures, facials and massages

• Gift shops feature duty-free shopping, with fine jewelry, perfumes, clothing, cosmetics and a selection of drugstore items.
• And (not that it’s a fun attraction or anything, but nice to know) there are full laundry and dry-cleaning services.

Is there a doctor on board?
Yes. A physician and nurse are on each ship to provide medical care and services at customary charges. Commonly used medications are kept on board and may be prescribed by the ship’s doctor.

What if I need to stay in touch while we’re at sea?
Believe it or not, if you’ve got a cell phone, you can probably use it aboard select ships through our Freestyle Cellular Service. International roaming charges will apply. For more info, visit www.cellularatsea.com. And, all of our ships have computer terminals you can rent by the hour in the Internet Café. You can also telephone or fax to anywhere in the world and be billed at the usual ship-to-shore rates. (Please refrain from bragging too much when writing to people who are not currently taking an NCL cruise.) Friends, family and work associates back home can reach you via the personal email address we have printed on your cruise ticket. They can also dial you directly by calling 1.888.NC.SHIPS (from outside the U.S., dial 1.732.335.3280). If you must contact work, please avoid talking to the boss and tell everyone else you’ll “get right on it,” right after your massage and body wrap.

What about tipping?
SERVICE CHARGE
A fixed service charge of $10 per person, per day will be added to your on-board account. For children ages three to 12, a $5 per-person, per-day charge will be added (there’s no charge for children under the age of three).
When You’re On Board

A lot of folks go, “Hey, I just paid my ticket fare; why this extra thing?” We know — it sounds like we’ve added it as padding, but it’s not true. The reason there’s a fixed service charge is an important one: Our crew (as are the crews on other cruise lines) is encouraged to work together as a team and is compensated by a combination of salary and incentive programs that your service charge supports. On the final day aboard most cruise lines, it’s a matter of finding all the folks who’ve waited on you hand and foot to tip them. Here it’s one less thing to worry about. We really want you to love your Freestyle Cruise experience and are certain every crew member will provide you with the high standard of service NCL is known for. In fact, we offer a best-in-class ratio of approximately one crew member per stateroom, so you’re sure to enjoy gracious service around the clock.

Therefore, if you have any concerns about the service you receive during your cruise, please bring them to the immediate attention of our Reception Desk staff on board so that we can address any issues in a timely manner before the cruise is over. NCL has a structured guest satisfaction program on board designed to handle any concerns about any service or on-board product quickly and efficiently. In almost every case, we’re able to come up with a satisfactory solution to any issue and make sure our guests can focus on enjoying their cruise. In the unlikely event that we can’t satisfactorily resolve the issue through our guest satisfaction program, guests will be able to adjust the service charge according to the level of inconvenience they feel they’ve experienced. Our clear priority is to have the opportunity of resolving the issue when it happens, to everyone’s complete satisfaction.

GRATUITIES
Unlike most other ships in the cruise industry, there’s no required or recommended tipping on NCL. Guests should not feel obliged to offer a gratuity for a service that is generally rendered to all guests. However, all of our staff members are encouraged to go the extra mile, so they’re permitted to accept cash gratuities. It’s entirely at the discretion of our guests who wish to acknowledge particular staff members for exceptional or outstanding service. In other words, there is genuinely no rule that asks you to tip, but feel free to do so if you want to acknowledge particular individuals.

Also, certain staff positions provide service on an individual basis to only some guests and do not benefit from the overall service charge. We encourage those guests to acknowledge good service from these staff members with appropriate gratuities. For example, for guests purchasing bar drinks, the recommended gratuity is 15 percent. Similarly, for guests using concierge and butler services, we recommend they consider offering a gratuity commensurate with services rendered.

Safety and Security
At any given moment, there are likely to be “trouble spots” in the world in terms of crime and/or war or terrorist actions. Accordingly, it may be necessary to change the published cruise or Shore Excursion itinerary. Any such changes are for your safety and beyond NCL’s control. While we endeavor to provide reasonable protection for your comfort and safety on board our ships, we cannot guarantee freedom from all risks associated with war, terrorism, crime or other potential sources of harm. NCL reminds all guests they must ultimately assume responsibility for their actions while ashore.

The U.S. Department of State and other similar government agencies regularly issue advisories and warnings to travelers giving details of local conditions in specified cities and countries according to the agency’s perception of risks to travelers. We strongly recommend guests and their travel professionals obtain and consider such information when making travel decisions.

Where can I keep my valuables?
All staterooms and suites have mini-safes. Please note, however, that NCL is not responsible for valuables left in staterooms or elsewhere on board.

Are visitors allowed on board?
Due to security reasons, unfortunately, no.

Suggested phone-machine messages for your Bon Voyage:
SUGGESTION #1: FOR WORKER BEES
Hello, you’ve reached ____. I am currently Freestyle Cruising on one of NCL’s great ships. If you have a problem that needs immediate assistance, please put a signed job-request form in the circular in-basket immediately to the left side of my desk on the floor. Thank you.

SUGGESTION #2: FOR TIRED PARENTS
Hello, you’ve reached ____. Frankly, I’m surprised you didn’t get a busy signal with our kids being on the phone 24/7. In any case, we are not doing laundry or running errands because we are Freestyle Cruising on one of NCL’s great ships and are currently in a hot tub having one of those cute drinks with the umbrella in it. Buh-bye.
